

RESPONSIBLE TRAVEL GUIDE

Protecting Nature & Biodiversity While Traveling in Türkiye

Our Commitment to Nature and Local Conservation

At Corbieco Travel, we believe that protecting nature and biodiversity is an essential part of responsible tourism. While supporting local communities helps reduce pressure on natural resources, we also aim to actively protect the environment and biodiversity in the destinations we operate.

This guide is designed to help our travelers understand how their journey can positively contribute to nature conservation and how they can travel responsibly during their trip.

How Our Tours Support Nature and Biodiversity

Protected Areas & Heritage Sites

Our itineraries may include visits to:

- National Parks and protected landscapes
- UNESCO World Heritage Sites
- Natural reserves and conservation areas

By visiting these sites, travelers contribute directly through entrance fees that support conservation, maintenance, and protection efforts.

Respecting Wildlife and Natural Ecosystems

- We do not offer wildlife interaction tours.
- All tours comply with international conservation principles, including CITES and the IUCN Red List.
- Wildlife is observed only in natural settings and from a respectful distance, without disturbance.

Learning Through Travel

During our tours:

- Licensed local guides share information about local flora, fauna, and environmental challenges.

- Guests are informed about protected species, sensitive ecosystems, and conservation efforts in the region.
- When available, visits to national park information centers are encouraged.

Responsible Traveler Guidelines

We kindly ask our guests to follow these good practices:

- Do not litter and always dispose of waste properly
- Stay on marked paths and trails
- Do not remove plants, stones, or natural materials
- Avoid feeding animals or approaching wildlife
- Respect local rules in protected and sacred areas

Small actions make a big difference in preserving fragile ecosystems.

Supporting Conservation Projects

Travelers can contribute further by:

- Supporting conservation-friendly entrance fees and local initiatives
- Donating to recognized local environmental or conservation projects
- Choosing responsible souvenirs that do not involve endangered species or natural resource exploitation

We encourage donations only to official organizations or conservation projects, not to individuals encountered on the street.

Beyond the Journey

Responsible travel does not end when the trip ends. We encourage our guests to:

- Learn more about the biodiversity of the places they visited
- Share their experiences and awareness with friends and family
- Continue supporting conservation and sustainability initiatives at home

Our Promise

All tours offered by Corbieco Travel are designed to minimize environmental impact, respect biodiversity, and support conservation efforts wherever possible. By traveling responsibly together, we help protect Türkiye's natural and cultural heritage for future generations.

Sustainable Recommendations Before Turkiye Trip

Avoid Disposable Items

Use a reusable bottle, bag, and utensils. Say no to single use plastics to reduce waste.

Reduce Food Waste

Order only what you can finish. Share dishes and store leftovers when possible.

DIY Cleaning Products

Use eco-friendly, homemade cleaners made from vinegar or lemon to avoid harmful chemicals.

Respect Natural Habitats

Don't pick plants or disturb wildlife in parks and archaeological sites.

Eco-Friendly Packaging

Choose products with minimal or recyclable packaging. Avoid plastic wrapped souvenirs and opt for locally made goods.

Recycle Properly

Separate your waste when possible. Use recycling bins at hotels, airports, and public areas.

Support Local

Buy handmade products, eat at local restaurants, and join community-run tours to boost the local economy.

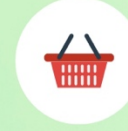

for a greener world.

Take Meat off the Menu

Try Türkiye's delicious plant-based dishes. Reducing meat helps lower your carbon footprint.

Buy Less, Buy Better

Choose quality, locally made items over mass-produced souvenirs. It's better for the planet and supports local artisans.

Use Water Wisely

Take shorter showers, turn off taps, and reuse towels in hotels to help conserve Türkiye's water resources.

Reduce Energy Use

Turn off lights, unplug chargers, and use air conditioning only when needed to save energy during your stay.

Go Car-Free

Walk, bike, or use public transport to explore. It's cleaner, cheaper, and a great way to experience local life.
